

Capital Wedding Photography Ltd

Hello and thank you for contacting Capital Wedding Photography for our list of packages and prices.

Firstly, congratulations on your happy news!

Your wedding is one of the most important days of your life and it is essential that you hire a wedding photography company that have the experience, skills and equipment to capture your wedding day as it unfolds.

There are many wedding photographers in the Edinburgh area so how do you know which one is right for you? Here are some tips to help you decide:

The most obvious thing is to take a look at their web site and have a look at the wedding gallery.

- The number one thing to look at is the bride's dress – can you see all the detail clearly in the dress? Brides will spend a vast amount of their budget on their wedding dress, what's the point if you can't see the detail in the dress in the official wedding photographs?
- Take a look at the group shots, especially large group shots. Do the people on either end of the group look as if they are leaning in toward the centre? If they do, there is a good likelihood that the photographer doesn't have the appropriate lens for this type of work.
- How are the colours in the photographs? If they seem too rich, it means the photographs have been over-processed in the editing phase.
- Take a look at shots of the happy couples getting in and out of cars. Are there unsightly reflections in the windows? That is caused by a lack of attention to detail by the photographer.

What type of equipment does the photographer have? Don't be afraid to ask them what camera they use. A simple search on Google will tell you if it is a professional grade camera or not. You don't want your official wedding photographs to be of the same quality as the ones your uncle will produce do you?

Finally, are there a lot of black and white shots in the photographer's portfolio? If the bulk of them are in black and white, you should ask yourself "why is that?". This is usually a method that the less experienced photographer uses to cover up shortcomings in their photographs.

At Capital Wedding Photography we take your wedding photography very seriously. Our Head Professional Photographer, James Christie, has been photographing weddings since 1980 all over the world. He uses the highest quality, professional grade Nikon cameras and lenses, ensuring his clients receive what they are paying for – highly detailed, properly exposed, professional wedding photographs.

We know that we are far from being the least expensive wedding photography company in Edinburgh because we employ highly qualified and experienced wedding photographers to provide you with the very best results. We believe in the time proven phrase "You get what you pay for".

James believes it is vital to sit down with each couple to discuss their needs for their special day. His style is predominantly Reportage/Documentary; however, Traditional can also be catered for, the choice is up to you. Although we are based in Edinburgh we are happy to travel to any location for your wedding. James strives to use natural light wherever possible, to capture more natural wedding photographs. However, we do use the Profoto B1 lighting system (The best in the world) for stunning images.
